

Printmaking basic agreement

Regardless of type of artist or past experience, all applicants wishing to work in the printmaking area are expected to understand and adhere to basic rules of working in the area including:

- A willingness to donate two sets of printmaker's proofs to the gallery for sale if editioning
- Ensuring that a booking for the area has been made and that the technician is aware of your presence
- Responsibility for knowing and applying safety guidelines
- Ability to work responsibly and independently
- Responsibility for the payment of any damage caused to equipment or facilities or its replacement through misuse
- Respect for proper use of facilities including taking into consideration your limitations within the spaces
- Cleanliness and willingness to put equipment away and clean up after use
- Consideration and respect for other users of the facility
- Abiding by all the general policies of The Art Vault, including those listed under OH&S
- Knowing that Art Vault tools, equipment and supplies are strictly never to be removed from the printmaking facilities
- An understanding that use of the printmaking area will be revoked and forbidden if the basic rules are not adhered to.
