

Rachel Kendrigan is a multidisciplinary, emerging artist, originating from the regional town of Mildura in Victoria where she gained her Bachelor of Visual Arts through La Trobe University; she relocated to Hobart in 2013, and completed her Bachelor of Fine Arts with Honours (Research). Her practice and passion is centered around drawing and her performative mark making is remediated through performance, video, photography, objects and installation. Within her practice Kendrigan explores the body in space, and the body as a drawing tool, within the themes of connection to place, memory, and the self.
